"The Precious and The Vile."

(By Geo. O. Barnes, Evangelist.)

Even a careless reader will be impressed with the assiduous jealousy exhibited by the Great Creator in His work of "Restitution of all things," in keeping separated the "Things that differ," lest harm should come from their commingling.

And this anxiety has been fully justified by what has followed in all ages, while the work of restoration goes slowly on. Indeed, we may truthfully aver that nothing has so retarded "The restitution of all things spoken by the Holy Prophets since the world began," as the confounding of good and evil, brought about by the cunning of the great Adversary. The Lord's proviso in sending Jeremiah out to do His work, is the one qualification He requires of His Ministers now. "If thou shalt take forth the precious from the vile, thou shalt be as my mouth." (Jer. 15:19) and the inference plainly is, that in case His servants fail to do this, He discredits them as His ambassadors, whatever of human endorsement they may have. How this would thin the ranks of those who claim to speak in God's name in this century, I need not stop to explain. But I wish to show that "Elohim" "In the beginning" laid down this discriminating axiom most carefully. And the reason is obvious. On no account will God allow Satan's work to be mistaken for His own, if He can prevent it. His repeated and careful separations; His reiterated distinctions in nomenclature; "His line upon line and precept upon precept," all show that He foresaw imminent dangers clustering around this point, and endeavours carefully to guard it in every possible way. And so it has turned out. The Devil has exhausted his subtlety and made his most pronounced assault, just at this critical position. The "conflict of the ages" rages here, and the defeats of the Lord's hosts far outnumber the victories, until, taught by "The Great Tribulation," "God's silly sheep," who will learn it no other way, are taught the wisdom that will insure a final and decisive victory in the long strife.

Notice how the Good God "Divides the light from the darkness, and calls the light day and the darkness night." He will by no possibility, save wilful perversity, have the one mistaken for the others; and He denounces a "Wo" upon any of His prophets who call "Darkness light, evil good and bitter sweet;" henceforth (Isa. 5:20) let us see how Satan has "set at naught" this warning of the Lord, and carried out his first plan of ruin in Eden, by so confounding "Good and evil in the fatal tree, that our Mother Eve thought that the fruit that has poisoned her race in all time was "good for food," and so "ate of it, and gave to her husband and he did eat." Take the ills of life—loss of dear ones, loss of property, loss of health, as illustrated in Job. We are there, all admitted "Behind the scenes," and know beyond a peradventure who inflicted one and all of these calamities. We can see clearly the arch fiend with infernal joy doing his deadly work. He had to go out of "the presence of the Lord" before he could do anything; for hate, not love, is in everything he does. Yet, we hear the honest, but misguided servant of the Lord, attributing all his dreadful doings to God; and we, for whom the book of Job was written AS A WARNING, copy Job's words of ignorance with approval and pass them on as current coin of the heavenly realm, instead of rejecting them with scorn as the Devil's counterfeit. Job was ignorant of the work of the Devil in his afflictions, and when he learned later on, who was the author of his misfortunes, "abhorred himself;" recanted his charges against God and "Repented in dust and ashes." But we, with a completed Bible in our hands, and a full knowledge of Satan's agency in the catastrophes of life, as summarized in the Book of Job, still ascribe all to God under the flimsy pretext.—The "last ditch" of a false theology, that God "permitted" Satan to do it, and all this Devil's work was by full approval of God. For permission by no honest use of the word can mean anything else but approval. I can understand the Devil doing his accursed work, because the Lord, however desirous to rescue, could not help without violating Satan's acknowledged rights. As in Eden, He could not deliver our first parents save by a deliberate purchase, and Satan's voluntary abdication of his right of conquest. God is just, even to Satan, (His enemy and ours) and paid his claim against the race represented in Adam and Eve in Eden, that He might justify them which believe in Jesus. I can understand God's helplessness in virtue of man's free will. But a deliberate surrender by God, of His best man on earth, into the hands of his worst enemy, simply to try an experiment of torture, when He knew His beloved servant would fail; and this at the Devil's suggestion, I cannot understand, as possible on the part of my God. I will not make Him out worse than myself, and I know that I would rather die than yield my beloved child into the hands of my worst enemy, if I had any power to prevent it. I will not believe that my God stands by and witnesses the sorrows of His creatures that He could prevent and yet does not. "I have not learned Christ, Who is the brightness of the Father's glory and the express image of His person." He lived and walked on earth to show us the Father. He always did the Father's will. Do we find him causing sickness and death, storm and disaster? He healed the sick, raised the dead, rebuked the wind and calmed the storm. Why? Because all was the work of the Devil.

I have written elsewhere of the coroner's inquest held over the dead body of a soldier smitten by lightning, and the verdict was: "Died by a visitation of God." The surgeon saved by artificial respiration six others struck by the same bolt, who otherwise would have died by a visitation of God." This soldier may have been a wicked man, and there may have been some connection between cause and effect in his case. But what of this from a newspaper? These are the headlines: "A cyclone's terrible work at McCook, Nebraska. Church blown down on children and 50 injured. Pastor buried under the organ and badly crushed about the body." "Visitation of God," who permitted it in His wise but inscrutable Providence. The theologians will tell us, I thought "His Providential care over us" was a common definition of Providence. Here is another "visitation of our Father in Heaven." It occurred in Mexico, Mo. "In the late disastrous tornado 12 persons were killed and an equal number wounded. Houses and barns were swept away bodily by the terrific force of the hurricane. A horse standing in the road was raised in the air, carried a considerable distance and dashed to the earth with such violence as to kill it on the spot. Trees were torn up by the roots, a number of cattle were killed by being thrown violently against walls and down steep declivities. A baby which a man was holding in his arms, was torn away, carried about 100 yards, dashed against a tree and instantly killed. Think of those innocent and helpless creatures of God, visited by Him in this wise. Or think of Him "permitting" it for some inscrutable reason. Ponder over the revelation in Job, which tells so plainly who it is that does these things; remember that Satan is the "Prince of the power of the air." (Eph. 2:2) He turns this blessing of God into an instrument of wreckage and death; given the power or right to do it by God's blood-bought people, whom he hath deceived into believing that God does them or "permits" them for some wise purpose. Jesus said: "A good tree can not bring forth corrupt fruit." Our fall in Gen. 3rd begins with "charging God," putting the blame on Him, and it has set the keynote of life. This confounding of God's work with Satan's always brings confusion, of which God is not the author. Every one knows I could multiply these instances a thousand fold and that there are mere "specimens" bricks of the house "built by God" for the exhibition of His glory, according to theology. I will adduce one more and quit the loathsome record to tell its own story of man's slander of the good God, and the horrible education we are giving our children, as our parents, before, taught us. "Fort Worth, Texas, March 18: The severe snow and wind storm which has raged during several days past over the Rocky Mountain country, from Wyoming to Central Texas, has been exceedingly severe upon live stock. It is estimated that 2,000 cattle have perished along the line of the Denver, Texas & Gulf Road between Trinidad, Col., and Fort Worth, Texas, during the past week, and as many more, North and East of Trinidad. Fruit all killed, Spring wheat just up and killed to the roots. Thousands of sheep in the midst of lambing, will die as the result of the blizzard now raging. Truly, if this be the "Providence" of God, Who saved Nineveh, because there were innocent children and "much cattle," who would have perished with the sinners of the city, then the God of the Old Testament is more merciful than the God of the New Testament. "The Lord our God is one God, and He is revealed in His son, Jesus the Christ, who always went about doing good and healing all who were oppressed by the Devil." I am Jehovah, I change not; Jesus Christ, the same yesterday, to-day and forever. Can you believe, dear reader, that God ever did such things Himself; or "permitted" them to be done by others? If you do, then why do you weep and lament and console and sympathize one with another over such happenings? If they come from the Heavenly Father's hand, should you not rejoice and give thanks that His will is being done? When sickness comes, a "visitation of

HUSTONVILLE.

Mrs. Frances Cabell, who has been quite sick for some weeks, is improving slowly.

W. D. Stagg and George Tucker caught a fine string of bass Friday at Roy's Mill.

Mrs. W. D. Stagg was given a chicken shower last week by her neighbors on her return to her farm near Kidd's Store.

Mr. John Didwiddie, whose illness was mentioned last week, is slowly declining and his recovery is not expected by his physicians.

Joe Mulhatton, of Louisville, the world's most famous fabricator, has been succeeded by the Middleburg correspondent of the I. J.

A very interesting program was rendered on Friday evening at the College Chapel by members of the Hustonville Literary and Musical Society.

James Yowell sold a pair of mules to B. G. Gover for $260. Yowell bought a jack from Henry Badgman for $250 and sold him next day for $260.

Miss Cora Lipp & Sister will have their millinery opening April 1st, 2nd and 3rd. Don't fail to see the most up-to-date hats that have ever been shown in this locality. Also a brand new line of notions and ready made skirts. It.

Prospect, the seven-year-old son of Dignity Dare, that was sold by C. C. Carpenter last year for $1,000, has been sold for $3,600. Dignity has 65 colts with an average age of 2½ years that sold at an average price of $611.

Quite a number of business men and farmers have expressed their approval of Danville's opportunity for a population of 20,000 or more by interurban lines as recently mentioned. In addition to passenger traffic, an immense freight business would be their from this point, fed by a well-timbered territory to the Adair and Russell county lines. This certainly is the flood tide of Danville's opportunity and it would lead her on to fame and fortune.

The following is a Washington dispatch: When Senator Bradley reached Washington and caught sight of his first batch of mail, he turned to one of those who came with him and asked:

"Where can I get a young man who is a first class stenographer, clear of head and clean of character?" "Luther Willis, Jr., of Shelbyville, Ky.," was the reply. "I know him and his people," was the Senator's reply. "Wire him that he can get a $1,600 job if he will accept at once." This is the Senator's way of transacting business.

Dr. Edmund Harrison, who has been at the head of Bethel Female College, at Hopkinsville, for 13 years, announced that he would retire from the presidency in June. Ill health of his wife is the reason given.

Four workmen were killed by a falling wall at the Chicago stock yards. The bodies were recovered soon after the wall, which was left standing after the fire which destroyed one of Darling & Co.'s warehouses recently, collapsed. The Southern Railway will begin the construction immediately of freight terminals in Atlanta costing in the neighborhood of $600,000. The total expenditure, including the necessary real estate which has already been purchased, will approximate $1,000,000.

All troops have been removed from the tobacco districts in the State in which night riders have been active for the first time since Gov. Wilson ordered the soldiers to take the field shortly after he became Governor. Adj't. Gen. Johnston recalled the last squad Friday from Eddyville and says that from all reports he anticipates no more trouble.

Near Death In Big Pond.

It was a thrilling experience to Mrs. Ida Soper to face death. "For years a severe lung trouble gave me intense suffering," she writes, "and several times nearly caused my death. All remedies failed and doctors said I was incurable. Then Dr. King's New Discovery brought quick relief and a cure so permanent that I have not been troubled in twelve years." The Court of Appeals reversed the case of T. S. Anderson, one of the alleged bank wreckers of Owensboro, who was sentenced to three years in the penitentiary on the charge of falsely swearing to a report of his bank. A new trial is ordered. The reversal was made because the trial judge refused to vacate the bench or order a change of venue.

"My three year old boy was badly constipated, had a high fever and was in an awful condition. I gave him two doses of Foley's Orino Laxative and the next morning the fever was gone and he was entirely well. Foley's Orino Laxative saved his life." A. Wolkash, Casimer, Wis. New Stanford Drug Co.

ESTES.—Mrs. Lydia Edmiston Estes, relict of Dr. Ed M. Estes, died at her home near McKinney at 2 o'clock Friday, after an illness which began with grip. She had been in poor health for years. Mrs. Estes is survived by two children, Miss Sallie, aged 15, and Benie, 13. The burial occurred in the McKinney cemetery Saturday afternoon after brief services at the home by Mr. J. C. McClary, of this piece. Deceased was a daughter of Squire John Edmiston, of Crab Orchard, and was a devout member of the Presbyterian church. She was an excellent woman and her death occasions much sorrow.

PENCE.—Mrs. Katherine Vaughn Pence, relict of Mr. Adam M. Pence, died at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Walter O. Walker, at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon of a complication of troubles aged 51. Deceased was a daughter of the late George Vaughn, was a devout member of the Methodist church, a good wife and a kind and indulgent mother. She leaves only one child, the daughter mentioned above, but a sister, Mrs. Allie Hail, is also left to mourn her loss, and for them and other relatives much sympathy is felt. Mrs. Pence had spent her entire life in Lincoln county and she was loved by a wide circle of friends. She was an exceedingly kind-hearted, sympathetic woman and a splendid friend of the poor and unfortunate. She will be sadly missed by her many friends and acquaintances but none will feel the loss so keenly as the daughter, with whom she made her home and who she almost idolized. Brief funeral services were held at the Walker home at 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon, at which Rev. T. W. Barker officiated, and afterwards the remains were laid beside those of her husband in Buffalo cemetery.

Adorina's Fox

Is a handsome, large young Jersey Bull, descended from a long and unbroken line of the greatest bulls and cows on the Island of Jersey England and America. His sire is one of the best bulls ever imported and his dam is a show cow that has given 65 pounds of rich milk every day. You can buy him like beef. Like the Likeness of some Ancestor" and have a strictly good cow, you should avail yourself of his service. He will be allowed to serve a limited number of approved, registered cows, instead of one in the herd this year for a fee of $5 per head. Make engagement before sending cow to be bred. REID & OTTER, Telephone 80. STANFORD, KY. N. B.—We have to offer three extra choice bull calves that will be sold at right prices.

For SALE.—A number of big, nice mare mules, good workers, four to six years old. S. M. Owens, McKinney, Ky.

The noted stallion, Sir Dixon, owned by Col. E. F. Clay, of Bourbon, was so badly hurt in his paddock that he had to be killed.

R. S. Scudder, the McKinney horseman, sent us word to save him space to advertise his fine string of stallions, so watch for the "ad" next issue.

R. M. West & Co. have purchased from Madison county parties hemp to the amount of 700,000 pounds, paying from $5 to $5.50.—Lancaster Record.

The great saddle stallion, Preston, will make the present season at J. C. Bailey's stable in Crab Orchard. Watch these columns for his description and pedigree.

Watch out for the pedigree and description of S. M. Owens' good stallion in our next issue. The Warfield has wintered well and is in fine shape for the season.

Don Verrick's description and pedigree appear in our advertising columns this issue. Read about the great son of Onward Silver and talk to or write the owner, Dr. G. G. Perry, for further particulars.

Your attention is called to the advertisement of S. T. Harris' and Robert Woods' splendid stallions, Ashland Brook and King Eagle. The former is a richly-bred trotting stallion and the latter is a royally pedigreed saddler. Messrs. Harris and Woods also stand two great jacks.

Gov. Wilson has offered a reward of $100 for the apprehension and conviction of any person scraping, salting or sowing grass seed in or otherwise destroying in any way any tobacco plant bed in Caldwell or Christian counties since March 1, 1909. The reward is good for 60 days from date and will be paid for each person apprehended and convicted.

N. M. Burgess, of Sadieville, bought of Lee Houston, of Harrison, 32 fancy 1,500-pound cattle for July delivery at 6c. J. T. T. Hedges, of Bourbon, reports 156 thrifty lambs from 106 ewes. Four of the ewes gave birth to triplets. Corn is now worth practically $4 per barrel and in order to obtain that price for corn fed to cattle, expert feeders claim that the latter must bring seven cents per pound.—Paris Kentucky.

The Lurid Glow Of Doom was seen in the red face, hands and body of the little son of H. M. Adams, of Henrietta, Pa. His awful plight from eczema had, for five years, defied all remedies and baffled the best doctors, who said the poisoned blood had affected his lungs and nothing could save him. "But," writes his mother, "seven bottles of Electric Bitters completely cured him." For Eruptions, Eczema, Salt Rheum, Sores and Blood Disorders and Rheumatism Electric Bitters is supreme. Only 50c. Guaranteed by Penny's Drug Store.

Here and There.

There are nearly 800 cases on the docket of the Franklin circuit court.

William K. Hall, an ex-Confederate soldier aged 94, dropped dead at Whitesburg, Letcher county.

While the Bessemer and Lake Erie railroad train bearing Mrs. James H. Boyle, implicated in the Whittia kidnaping case, was making 30 miles an hour at Valencia, north of Pittsburgh, Mrs. Boyle made a daring but unsuccessful attempt to escape. Mrs. Boyle was taken to the Mercer county jail at Mercer, Pa.

Simple Remedy For La Grippe.

La grippe coughs are dangerous as they frequently develop into pneumonia. Foley's Honey and Tar not only stops the cough but heals and strengthens the lungs so that no serious results need be feared. The genuine Foley's Honey and Tar contains no harmful drugs and is in a yellow package. Refuse substitutes. New Stanford Drug Co.

The Mt. Morgan Coal Co., in Whitley county, will close down to-morrow on account of dull times.

The cleverest imitation of real Coffee ever yet made is Dr. Shoop's Health Coffee. It is fine in flavor—and is made in just one minute. No tedious 20 or 30 minutes boiling. Made from pure parched grains, malt, nuts, etc. Sample free. Sold by Penny's Drug Store.

Don't drag the Stomach, or stimulate the Heart or Kidneys. That is wrong. It is the weak nerves that are crying out for help. Vitalize these weak inside controlling nerves with Dr. Shoop's Restorative, and see how quickly good health will come to you again. Test it and see! Sold by Penny's Drug Store.
